

LPGA BOARD OF DIRECTORS

The responsibility for management oversight of the Ladies Professional Golf Association (LPGA) falls under the direction of the LPGA Board of Directors. The Board of Directors is composed of six independent directors, the LPGA Player Executive Committee (player directors) and the national president of the LPGA Teaching and Club Professionals (T&CP). In addition, three Tour players serve on the Player Executive Committee as non-voting members. The commissioner of the LPGA serves as an ex-officio Board member.

The Board of Directors' primary responsibilities include the oversight of goals and policies for the operation of the LPGA; long-range planning; guidance in the areas of legal, finance and sponsor relationships; and other responsibilities as mandated by the LPGA Constitution. The Board of Directors appoints the commissioner as the chief executive of the LPGA. LPGA staff, serving under the direction of the commissioner, conducts the operations of the association.

The LPGA independent board members are: Rae Evans, founder and president of Evans Capitol Group; W. Grant Gregory, retired chairman of Touche Ross (now Deloitte & Touche) and founder and chairman of Gregory and Hoenemeyer, Inc.; Leslie Greis, founder, CEO and managing member of Perennial Capital Advisors, LLC; Dawn Hudson, former president and chief executive officer, Pepsi-Cola North America, PepsiCo, Inc.; Bill Morton, former chief executive and current chairman of Jack Morton Worldwide; Nancy Wiese, vice president of worldwide brand marketing/advertising, Xerox Corporation. Hudson is chairwoman of the LPGA Board of Directors.
